

PROFESSIONAL SCRUM TRAINER (PST)

Join the Scrum.org Community and Improve the Profession of Software Delivery

Professional Scrum Trainers (PSTs) are professionals licensed by Scrum.org to teach the official Scrum.org curriculum. They are skilled in Scrum and/or product management. They are experts in Scrum and have extensive experience applying, leading, teaching, and coaching it. They have been servant-leaders at an organizational level. They are active in local agile communities, as well as the broader global agile and Scrum movements.

All PSTs use the same highly-tuned and standardized Scrum.org courseware. Trainers bring their own style and experience to their courses, but using consistent materials ensures that all PSTs are delivering the same high-quality content to each and every student regardless of which PST teaches the course and where it is taught.

These trainers continuously evaluate and improve themselves through the use of student feedback and student assessments. Through our course material crowd sourcing program with our PSTs, they work with Scrum.org to continuously improve the courses, and related materials.

Such credible and consistent learning experiences are highly recognized in the Scrum.org training marketplace for consistency, professionalism and the highest quality trainers and materials.

What Makes Scrum.org Different?

Scrum.org is focused on Improving the Profession of Software Delivery and that drives everything we do.

- Values - Our trainers live by the Scrum Values: Courage, Openness, Focus, Respect, Commitment.
- Consistent - Professional Scrum Trainers (PSTs) bring their own style and experiences with a consistent delivery of Scrum.org training around the world, so students know each course is aligned with Scrum, and any teammates taking a class from a different PST are learning from the same message.
- Focused - Scrum.org training classes focus on delivering value and all exercises are designed around how a Scrum Team works to deliver that value.
- Quality - Scrum.org PSTs are a select group of Scrum experts who go through an extensive set of peer reviews, testing, training, and interviews prior to being accepted as a PST. Each individual PST must be certified and licensed to teach Scrum.org training.
- Experienced - PSTs bring current agile practices and real-world Scrum experience to the classroom. All PSTs must attend annual face-to-face trainer meetings to stay up-to-date and support the community.

- Global - Scrum.org PSTs exist globally around the world.
- Innovative - All training materials are collaboratively maintained and improved by our community of Scrum experts and our founder Ken Schwaber, the co-creator of Scrum.
- Certification - All training classes come with a globally recognized Professional Scrum assessment attempt.
- Forever - Professional Scrum certifications are yours for life with no renewal costs to retain them.
